

Letters to the Editor: Sept. 17, 2020

A gem of a medical facility

EDITOR: Healdsburg Wound Care is a gem of a medical facility. Though it was recently slated to close as a department of Healdsburg District Hospital, it is now operating under the auspices of Providence Health/St. Joseph's.

Each staff member, from Karlos at the front desk, to Beatriz the medical assistant, from the registered nurses, Belinda, Janice and Aki to Dr. Suryavanshi himself, is welcoming to their patients, many of whom have chronic challenges with wound healing.

It's a unique facility in Sonoma County with no comparable dedicated wound care clinics.

I write today to commend all the members of the staff at Healdsburg Wound Care for their kindness, professionalism and knowledge that makes having regular visits for months at a time more of a pleasure than a pain.

Their compassionate, gentle and friendly care is deeply appreciated.

Ann Carranza